Be a tour guide at the V & A museum in London during Refugee Week

As part of Refugee Week (18-24 June 2012), the Victoria & Albert museum is looking to develop tours that are led by refugee speakers (called MyV&A) who select objects in the collection that elicit memories and associations of their experiences as refugees. MyV&A guides select from between 1-10 objects to talk about from 15-45 minutes depending on whether Guides talk about just one aspect of their experience or give a fuller story. Full training is provided for Guides who give public talks during Refugee Week for which they receive payment.

For more information please contact Laura Elliot - Programme Manager for Refugee Week at V&A - to discuss or email L.elliott@vam.ac.uk or call 020 7942 2196.

Young people who walk from Afghanistan to find safety in Europe

Their experiences reflect those of young people who have made it to the UK and visit the Refugee Council's Children's Section for practical and emotional support. The Observer talked at length to Judith Dennis, Policy Officer at Refugee Council.

New guidance on access to health care for asylum seekers and refused asylum seekers

The British Medical Association has recently published fresh guidance on access to health care for asylum seekers and refused asylum seekers. It clarifies the position on patient registration and confirms previous guidance about not requesting proof of identity or immigration status, if this is not the normal practice of the Practice for other prospective new patients. There is also an update on entitlements to hospital treatment for these groups that reflect the changes implemented in August 2011.

Fundraising opportunities

Reaching Communities Buildings - Your project could now be eligible

Changes have been made to broaden the eligibility criteria of the Reaching Communities programme. The funding of between £100,000 and £500,000, is targeted at projects that improve or replace existing buildings where a wide range of community activities take place.

The funding will only support buildings or sites based in the most deprived 'Lower Super Output Areas' (LSOAs) in England, using data from the Index of Multiple Deprivation (IMD). They will only pay for a new build project where a sustainable facility does not currently exist. You can apply for an exception if your project is based near an eligible area and primarily serves beneficiaries in that area.

The Big Lottery have produced some examples of what they are looking for at their BIG Learning Zone website. Simply click here and read the aims and outcomes section of 'Getting Funding and Planning Successful projects'.
